Comments

I witnessed a violent attack on one of our citizens yesterday on Escondido Blvd and Washington around noon. In light of the Sonya Massey murder by police, most Black or African American women are yet processing this epidemic of violent attacks on them and seemingly a prolonged process of change to protect them from violent criminals wearing a badge and carrying a firearm.

I am voicing my concern and pray that no retaliation for the department be enforced.

Subject RV Parking Ordinance

Position In Favor

Comments

We have this problem in our HOA (Hidden Trails Community Association) in spite of having regulations in our governing documents limiting the amount of time an RV can be parked on our streets. For example, a resident on my street periodically parks various RVs that he does not own in front of his house for up to 72 hours for cleaning (?) purposes. It can be difficult to maneuver past these RVs, especially if another resident is trying to enter or leave the cul de sac at the same time. I strongly support the adoption of this ordinance by the Council since the threat of having an RV towed & impounded by the city would add weight the HOA's ability to impose fines.

Please note, I am submitting Public Comment on behalf of Denisse Montiel of Wonders Daycare in Escondido:

"As a small business owner and daycare provider, I have benefitted from being part of the Upwards Boost program. The staff is frequently reaching out to check how they can assist me with my daycare program. It definitely brings me peace of mind to know there is someone I can reach anytime if I'm in need of help. I love their advertising platform."
